PASSING OF GEN. GARCIA

The Former Insurgent Commander in Eastern Cuba Succumbed to Pneumonia.

ACTION TAKEN BY PUBLIC OFFICIALS.

Letter of Condolence from President McKinley—The Sad News Conveyed to His Wife and Daughters While They were Breakfasting at a Hotel in Thomasville, Ga.

Washington, Dec. 12.—Gen. Calixto Garcia, the Cuban general, who came here at the head of the Cuban delegation from the Santa del Sur convention, to confer with the American authorities, died at ten yesterday morning. He was taken ill with pneumonia several days ago. Owing to his advanced age there had been little hope of his recovery from the first.

Gen. CALIXTO GARCIA.

The remains were immediately prepared for burial, and were placed on a bier in the room in which he died. A large Cuban flag served as a covering, and the head rested on one of smaller dimensions. The face and hands were left exposed to public view.

By direction of Maj.-Gen. Miles, a detachment of soldiers from Battery E, Sixth artillery, at the barracks here, under the command of Ltent. Cox, was detailed as a body guard for the remains.

After Gen. Garcia's death steps were taken to notify the government officials here, and also the executive committee of the Cuban assembly, which has its headquarters at Marianna, Cuba. Secretary Jose Villalon of the commission sent a telegram of notification to Mendez Capote, the president of the Cuban assembly, who is now in Havana.

As soon as the death became known, a number of visitors, including many public men, called at the hotel to express their condolences.

Letters of condolence were received from Secretary Hay, Gen. Miles and Senator Foraker, Secretaries Hay and Ager and Postmaster-General Smith left their cards, as also did Assistant Secretary Meeklejohn and Generals Miles and Gilmore. The president's letter of condolence to Secretary Villalon was as follows:

"Executive Mansion, Washington, Dec. 11.—My Dear Sir: I have heard with deep regret the melancholy news of Gen. Garcia's death. I beg to offer my heartfelt sympathy in your sorrow, and the tribute of my sincere admiration for his eminent qualities as a patriot and a soldier.

"The people of the United States will join with the people of Cuba in mourning the loss of one to whom the cause of Cuban liberty is so deeply indebted. Sincere in your grief, I am sincerely yours,

WILLIAM MCKINLEY."

Gen. Garcia left a large family, one of whom, Justo, a captain on his staff, was with him when he died. His widow and two daughters, Mercedes and Maria, are at Thomasville, Ga. A son, 19 years of age, is also with the mother, and is in Cuba. A daughter, Leonora, who married an American, is now living in Paris.

Gen. Garcia's mother is still alive and resides in Havana.

TO RELIEVE THE VOLUNTEERS.

Regular Troops to be Formed to Relieve the Places of the Volunteers;

Washington, Dec. 12.—The war department has begun to earnest the relief of the volunteer troops now stationed at Manila by regulars. This afternoon Secretary Alger signed an order designating for this purpose six regiments of United States infantry out of eight held in reserve for service in sub-tropical countries. The regiments are the Twentieth, the Thirteenth, at Fort Snelling, Minn.; the Twelfth, at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., and Fort Riley, Kas.; the Seventeenth, at Columbus Barracks, O.; the Fourth, at Fort Sheridan, Chicago, and the Twenty-second, at Fort Crook, Neb.

Admiral Schley Has the Grip.

New York, Dec. 13.—Admiral Schley, who is living with his family in the Hotel Kensington, has been seized with a slight attack of the grippe. A reception that was to have been given to him at the Wladson hotel, has been postponed.

Few Lives Lost in a Fire.

New York, Dec. 13.—A fire which destroyed the apartment house at 104 Prospect place, Brooklyn, Sunday night, killed four persons, Joseph W. Noblet, his wife, his wife's mother, Mrs. Stothorn, and John Wlune.

Tom Mallicoat, of Jellico, attempted to dismiss a dance with a bed slant benediction last week. Milliard Ayers wasn't ready to go home and protested with a full grown revolver and there was a funeral in that section next day in which Mallicoat played the leading part. Ayers surrendered himself and was acquitted. Parties in that section will still be closed in due form according to the old ritual.

GIDEON MARSH'S SENTENCE.

Twelve Years and Three Months Imprisonment and to Pay a Fine of Five Hundred Dollars.

Philadelphia, Dec. 14.—Gideon W. Marsh, former president of the wrecked Keystone bank, was sentenced by Judge Butler in the United States district court to an imprisonment of 12 years and 3 months and to pay a fine of $500.

It was thought probable that Marsh might, when brought up for sentence, name a statement implicating others in the wrecking of the bank, but he merely informed the court that his predecessor in the presidency of the bank had left a defalcation of over a million dollars and that he (Marsh) had never profited a dollar through the bank's losses.

Rivers and Harbors.

Washington, Dec. 15.—The house committee on rivers and harbors had a meeting, and discussed preliminaries of the hearings which are to be given members who desire appropriations for rivers and harbors. The committee desires to have all the hearings completed before the holidays.

Successful Trial of the Mackenzies.

Philadelphia, Dec. 14.—The second trial of the torpedo boat Mackenzie, made Monday afternoon over the new government course in the Delaware river below Wilmington, was successful, the little craft averaging a speed of 20.11 knots for two hours. This exceeds the government requirement by .11 knot.

Private Clinton's Sentence Commuted by the President.

Washington, Dec. 14.—The president has accepted the recommendation of Gen. Wheeler and commuted to imprisonment for life the sentence of death imposed by court-martial upon Private Clinton, of the tenth cavalry, at Huntsville, Ala.

Completely Waterlogged.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 14.—The schooner Middlesex, owned by E. A. Shorey of Ashland, Wis., which was caught in the ice floe at Pelee Island, Lake Erie, and badly crushed, has been towed into this port completely waterlogged. The crew were saved.

Head of the Russian Church in America.

New York, Dec. 14.—Among the passengers arriving on the French liner La Provence was Bishop

Tikhon, newly appointed bishop of the American church in America, although nominally he is bishop of the Aleutian Islands and Alaska.

Third Illinois Ordered Mustered Out.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 14.—Capt. R. P. Page Wainwright, chief mustering officer of Illinois, has received a dispatch from the war department directing him to muster out the Third Illinois volunteers on January 12.

Killed His Wife and Attempted Suicide.

San Francisco, Dec. 14.—Raymond Sellinger, a despondent German shot and killed his wife yesterday and then turned the weapon upon himself. He will die. Sellinger had been unable to secure employment.

Fatal Explosion.

Waucon, O., Dec. 14.—By an explosion in the grist mill at Pettisville here, yesterday morning, Nate Thomas and Clarence Emmons were killed outright and Will Markley was fatally injured.

Order of Signatures.

Mr. Arthur Ferguson then proceeded to read first the English, and after that the Spanish, version of the treaty. This finished, two copies were passed around the table, the commissioners signing them at the head of their respective delegations.

Senate Committee on War Affairs.

Washington, Dec. 14.—An appeal to the Senate to adjourn until the 20th was denied. The bill to render sureties of consular vice-consular and consular agents liable for their acts was referred to the Senate Committee on War Affairs.

THE TREATY IS SIGNED.

The War with Spain Officially Brought to a Close by the Peace Commissioners.

THE CLOSE WAS A SCENE FOR A PAINTER.

The Document was Signed at 8:45 p.m., on the Night of the 10th. It consists of Seventeen Articles, Making 7,500 Words. The Spaniards were Sadly Depressed Over the Final Article.

PARIS, DEC. 15.—

Paris, Dec. 15.—There were two joint sessions of the peace commissioners Saturday, one lasting from 3:30 p.m. to 5:15 p.m., and the other opening at 7 p.m. The long session in the afternoon and the subsequent recess were due only to the fact that each article of the treaty had to be carefully read and compared in Spanish and English, and to the fact that the engrossing of the last article in Spanish was incomplete. During the wait the commissioners were photographed.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 15, 1898.

The Central City Republican leads off in its last edition with the right sort of an editorial denouncing the "bad man" who "totes a gun" and shoots to kill. Such characters should be suppressed in every community at whatever cost.

COL. WILLIAM J. BRYAN has at last reached the expected point where he couldn't stand the pressure and has wired notice of his resignation to the War Department. He puts behind him all hope of military glory and looks forward to the resumption of his windy and theatrical career as a campaign leader.

The second session of the National Pure Food Congress has been called to meet in Washington, D. C., for the purpose of making renewed efforts to have a pure food bill passed through Congress. Almost everything is adulterated these days and it takes a discriminating buyer to get a pure article. Let us have pure food by legislation, if it can be procured no other way.

The United States is on record recently for doing great things in a big and generous way more even than ever before. The government has just been magnanimous to a fallen foe and allowed that foe a money consideration for certain values in the Phillipine Islands. Now it is reported that the troublesome seal-fishery question is to be put at rest by the purchase by the United States of the British Columbia sealing fleet.

The Goebel Law.

The Louisville Evening Post, the Lexington Herald and other representative anti-leading Democratic journals in Kentucky are denouncing most bitterly the Goebel law, constitutional or not. The first named paper predicts that the party whose convention endorses the villainous law will be defeated whenever the candidates may be and all the easier if that candidate be Goebel. Well let it be Goebel. We have Republicans in any quantity who could fill the Gubernatorial chair with high honor and who are ready to go to that sort of glory. And some of them live in the Peninsular. The issue is an undefined ballot against Goebel. Let all good citizens unite in a fight to the death against the outrageous law.

The Decision.

We believe in sustaining and upholding the honest decisions of our courts, and our court of Appeals says the Goebel law is constitutional. But our Court of Appeals says this by a strict party vote. And our Court of Appeals does not say it is a good law. The opinions and expressions of leading honest, intelligent Kentuckians of all parties greatly preponderates in strong disapproval and denunciation of the measure. There is no good but only evil in it from its very inception to the day when it will be.

so smitten by true Kentuckians as to be driven from a place in our state.

THE BEE said some time ago that self-respecting young Democrats with any hope for the future from a party standpoint would do well to avoid any alliance with Goebelism. That view has been sustained by the action of that class to which we referred and stands good today.

Kentuckians will not abide such a law. They may not attack the Court of Appeals. It may be, as that tribunal says—in its way—constitutional, but it is all bad and may be put away.

Advice About Seed Corn.

Fitting the conditions of the present corn crop in Kentucky our Commissioner of Agriculture, Lucas Moore, gives the following excellent advice as to selection of seed corn which, if followed, may save the farmer much loss:

"In view of the sappy condition of corn a little precaution in regard to seed corn for next year may prove of benefit. A careful selection should be made at once of a sufficient amount of ears which should be placed where they will become thoroughly dried out. If hard freezing while the sap remains will destroy the germ and render it worthless for seed purposes, but after it has become dried it will withstand any temperature which may occur in this latitude without injury."

Wheat and Live Stock.

The condition of the wheat crop in Kentucky is just now a little in doubt because of peculiar and severe weather conditions. The Commissioner of Agriculture reports the crop average for the State at 94, which is several points higher than at the corresponding date last year. The crop is divided into two distinct parts, the early and the later. And these parts are distinctly separated. The rainfall during October interrupted the sowing completely and the early wheat got a decided start of the later sowing.

A four-week's sojourn among his old friends so recuperated him that on the 10th instant he returned to that latter day Eden, the "Green River Country," and found the fatted calf still living and the earth turning on its axis subject to the action of the democratic party.

in pleasure and recreation. His chief recreation was hunting and fishing. The fishing was conducted by lowering a baited net into the turbid waters of the Cumberland, and waiting impatiently for the finny tribe to enter the net. As none entered, he found pretty soon that he was engaged in a business which yielded no net profits, so he gave up fishing and adopted hunting. Now there are different ways of hunting. Sometimes a party of hunters, accompanied by dogs, will scour the forest in quest of game. Sometimes a solitary hunter will scour the forest and silently steal upon his game. This latter mode is called "still hunting" and the man of nags prefers still hunting to any other kind.

Learning that there was a still (we mean game) in a dark ravine about a mile and a little over away the "boss" editor fortified himself with a plural shotgun, a game bag and one dozen empty shells and set out on a still hunt. By exercising great caution he was in the doorway (we mean gunshot) before his presence was detected. He quickly brought down his gun and returned well satisfied with his success. The man of nags indignantly denies the malicious charge that he shot birds contrary to state law. He wants everybody to understand that the game he carried back was not birds by a jugful (or nearly full). The game he brought in tastes stronger than quail and must be partaken of with judgment and discretion or a sense of "fullness" and "dizziness" is sure to follow. Although the creeper man does not consider himself a Nimrod of the first magnitude, he points with pride to the fact that under favorable circumstances he has never returned empty-handed from a still hunt.

A four-week's sojourn among his old friends so recuperated him that on the 10th instant he returned to that latter day Eden, the "Green River Country," and found the fatted calf still living and the earth turning on its axis subject to the action of the democratic party.

The Legion at Home.
From the Louisville Evening Post.

The Legion is home, home. To the soldier's ear the sweetest words on the English tongue. It might be—as it has been—to sentinel chimneys and smouldering ashes, but it is home still. No mortal hand can shut the windows of the sky that bends above it. If it be a country home every hill top is an altar. There is a story in every breeze, a picture in every wave of fish pond and swimming pool. In town or city, the familiar streets still echo with memories that are sacred.

Home, sweet home! There are yet many thousands of Grant's and Lee's survivors who will recall a pathetic incident of the war between the States. On either side of the Rappahannock one beautiful evening in June lay the opposing armies, each nearly 100,000 strong. A regimental band from the Northern side struck up "Hail Columbia." One after another other bands joined in until the whole Union army was on its feet. Then the strains died away deafening shouts of applause reverberated among the surrounding hills. Then all was silence. After a brief interval, just as if a regular program had been arranged, a number of bands on the Southern side began with "Dixie," the soldiers of General Lee joining in the song, followed at its close by loud hurrahs. Then from the Northern bands the "Star Spangled Banner" rang loud and clear; the South responding with the "Bonnie Blue Flag." As a Virginian remarked, each side seemed to be "shelling the other side with its national air."

Encourage that bad boy of yours. Make him feel that you are his friend. Get him to tell you his little troubles and find something besides a scowl and a discouraging word for him. He is to be the business man of the future—the minister, the lawyer, the doctor, the farrier, the statesman, the one on whom the destiny of this proud nation—"the land of the free and the home of the brave"—depends. A boy with such responsibilities and with such bright prospects is worthy a tender, careful and sensible consideration.

There was no shifting of scenery in the wooded wings and aisles in this great theater of war. But after an interval of fifteen or twenty minutes a Northern regiment started "Home, Sweet Home." Slowly the tender melody went down the line, and, if by preconcert, the Southern army across the river took up the hymn until a hundred thousand soldiers had joined in the splendid choir.

Voice after voice took up the strain, And as the song grew louder, Sometimes upon the soldier's cheek Washed off the stains of blood.

The world perhaps never before nor since has witnessed such an orchestra. Northern and Southern soldiers who had been enemies to the bone to this hideous newsmonger, both joined in a grand concerto of sublimity.

After complimenting the medical staff for their deep insight into his case, the "creeter" man packed his grip and hied away to that State which has furnished her full quota of great and distinguished men, such as Jackson, Polk, Johnson, Crockett, Brownlow, Murrell and the "boss" editor. He will pass silently by the rapturous welcome which he received on every hand, and state that he passed four weeks

The Thermometer Dived.

On Monday evening, the weather began turning colder, and the mercury went persistently downward until Wednesday morning at 6 o'clock, it registered eight degrees below zero, which is the coldest weather for years. In neither 1896-97 did it reach zero. In January, 1895, it registered 3 below. We feel satisfied that it will strain the plastic memory of the oldest inhabitant to recall the time when the thermometer recorded 8 below zero before the idea of December.

Overcoats and wraps, in fact anything that would either develop or maintain heat was at a premium and the most liberal minded held "close communion" with the stove or grate, whilst the weather fair chattered unbelieveable and unheeded.

SALAMAGUNDI.

The Hon. Geo. W. Peck, a man who has acquired considerable fame as Governor of Wisconsin and as author of "Peck's Bad Boy," and a man who, we feel, is the bad boy's friend, said, in a lecture which he delivered at Madisonville a few weeks ago, that we should be patient with the bad boy; that the parent should pat the boy on the back and have him feel that his parent is his best friend; that his parent loves him, is interested in his welfare and would do anything to make him happier and better. He said many other good things and many other facetious things but when he said the things herein spoken of we thought of how it would be said a great many parents hear these things.

We know boys who always approach their fathers with hesitancy and even with awe sometimes. Such fathers generally have the respect of their boys and almost always get prompt obedience when in the boy's presence and when the boy is told directly to do a thing. But we feel that such a father fails to enjoy many a pleasure that he would enjoy if he would only make more of a companion of his boy; we feel that such a father misses many an opportunity to wield a good and refining influence over his boy when he acts thus; we feel that if the boy considered his father more companionable he would go to him in times of trouble whereby as it is, sometimes, he goes to others who treat him not so tenderly and encouragingly as a father would treat him. And, besides, the father feels hurt that his boy goes to others and thus the breach between father and son becomes greater and greater whereby it might have been so different—so different.

Furthermore, we feel that such a father, when Timo has made his impress on him in a head sprinkled with grey, a form bowed, emaciated and wasted by disease, fails to receive many a cheering word, many a kind little act that he would have received had not the boy still that feeling of timidity and awe when in his presence.

Encourage that bad boy of yours. Make him feel that you are his friend. Get him to tell you his little troubles and find something besides a scowl and a discouraging word for him. He is to be the business man of the future—the minister, the lawyer, the doctor, the farrier, the statesman, the one on whom the destiny of this proud nation—"the land of the free and the home of the brave"—depends. A boy with such responsibilities and with such bright prospects is worthy a tender, careful and sensible consideration.

Thursdays, Friday, Nov. 24 and 25 were quarterly examination days in the Lexington Public School. The results of said examination were better than were expected and the persistent and assiduous work of most of the pupils was such that no one who is a teacher or who is interested in boys and girls could view it without new inspiration and a determination to try to do more and better work in the future. But from the foregoing remarks we would not have you infer that all did good work. Some did very fine work; some did very poor work. But all present displayed an assiduity and persistency that were admirable.

Some of the pupils were handicapped in that they had not had enough books in the past. The parents, we think, were able to get the books and, we suspect they got other things less valuable, but which cost more, but some of the books were seen not.

We wonder as we write how many parents, when they saw their children's grades, were pleased and how many displeased; we wonder how many really thought of the grades which were supposed to be a result of the child's last three months' work; we wonder how many children were encouraged by the parents if they received bad instead of good grades or how many uncomplimentary things were said of the teachers because the boy or girl got poor grades.

The following is what was given by a certain pupil as two reasons why we sometimes have earthquakes. We call no names and if the pupil who wrote it objects we hereby apologize. The temptation to give it is too great to be resisted. He wrote: "An earthquake is a great shaking of the earth, caused by the moon and icebergs falling into the ocean."

Some punctuation might have changed the meaning a little, but perhaps would not have made the reasons better.

Locomotive BLASTS.

The breaking down of the engine on the Providence train caused about two hours delay to that train on Monday.

We are told that Agent Teft, of Nortonville, has been selected as the joint agent for both companies at that place, which is indeed a good selection. He is always ready for business, and is so qualified as to give both companies entire satisfaction.

Engineer Fitzgerald was like a young colt turned loose on a pasture, last Monday, while in charge of the Providence train, seeming never to tire. Starting from England only a few minutes ahead of us, he kept his position until he reached Evansville.

Sup't. Flaris, of the South Diamond mine, says they are getting all the work they can possibly do and his men seem to be displaying great interest in doing all they can to keep up with the orders.

Evening news from the miners are so bad that we could not enable the St. Bernard Coal Co. to catch up with orders, so fast are they piling up on them.

While large daily shipments are being made by all the coal companies, yet the scarcity of coal cars has thrown them back considerably.

Electricity Galore.

Last week the office experienced unusual trouble from electricity. The paper was so highly electrified that it required the greatest effort to separate the sheets which adhered to each other with the tenacity of an afflicted feline to a heated stove, or a crossroads postmaster to his office, and would give out shocks that would affect the arms to the shoulder. Of course everyone had a solution for the phenomena, but the "boss" editor is fully satisfied that he is the only one who can satisfactorily explain the matter from a scientific standpoint. He contends that it is because the paper is so full of "current" events and wants to get money on his solution. He would also call the attention of those who desire to "raise thunder" with us that this office owns enough native electricity to run a corner on the thunder business, and such parties will do well to take due heed and "walk Spanish" around us.

Catarrh Cannot be Cured

With local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease, Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh. Any one who doubts this statement can write OSCAR BAKER.

Big Turtles.

Frank McGarry and Wilson Brothers are cited to the fact that their recent catch was not the only turtle in the creek. He was rusty and big and old but there is one—or was—that beat it. And it has just died in the London Zoo. It was about seven feet long, and is said to have been 150 years old. It was of special interest to Americans, because one of the heroes of our old Navy, Captain (afterward Admiral) Porter, presented it in 1814 to the chief of Rotuman Island, where it remained until 1870 when it was shipped to Sydney, N. S. W. It was brought to the London Zoo in February last and its death is thought to be due to the hard voyage and the hard London climate. Think of a climate in which a turtle could not live.

Good for the Children.

Mr. Ellis Johnson, of Weston, Ala., writes us August 12th, 1898. "I advise all mothers to give their children Planter's Nubian Tea when they are puny or feverish. I keep this medicine in the house and when the children are sick I give them a dose and that is the last of it." Sold by St. Bernard Drug Store.

NOTHING LIKE LEATHER.

Most Shoes are made of leather, but that is the only thing about them that is alike. The designing, cutting, fitting, sewing, soling, must all come in before the shoe is a shoe, and it depends upon how these are done, whether the shoe is as good as it should be or not. The firm of PINGREE & SMITH says:

"There's nothing like Leather,
If it's well put together."

Our earnest effort for about twenty long years has been to sell shoes made of good leather, well put together. Most of our shoes come direct from the manufacturer to us. We buy from shoe makers who understand their business, and stand behind their work, enabling us to see to it that you "get your money's worth" when you buy your shoes of us.

WE WANT YOU TO WEAR OUR SHOES.

He Whistled.

A speaking tube has lately been put in the St. Bernard store from the bookkeeper's desk down stairs to Mayor Burr's office in the front second story, and Charlie McGary was placed at the downstairs terminal to test the excellence of the acoustic tunnel. Everybody knows that by blowing into the end of one of these tubes a shrill whistle is produced at the other end. This announces that some one wishes to communicate a message. A crowd gathered into the Mayor's office bent on fun. Frank Arnold requested Charlie to try the call whistle. Putting his mouth to the tube Charlie produced a blast in the Mayor's room which raised that worthy dignitary to the ceiling. Frank assured Charlie that they could hardly hear him and begged him to blow harder. Charlie caught a full breath and emptied a volume of air into the tube which would have blown the head from an oaken barrel and which produced a shriek in the upper office that fractured the plastering. Four men seized and forcibly held Mayor Burr, who with fingers dug deeply into his ears was frantically endeavoring to leap out of the front window. Arnold called to Charlie that it was a little better, but still it could not be heard all over the office and exhorted him to blow just a little harder. Charlie shut his eyes, took a deep inspiration and putting his mouth to the tube let off a shriek in the upper office which startled the citizens living three blocks away and which evolved such screams of laughter from the crowd above that the hilarious sounds reached Charlie's ears and it began to soak through the roots of his hair that he had been victimized. He at once vacated his post but has not heard the last of the cruel yell yet.

In the Lead.

The continued cold weather shielded the surface of Loch Mary with a coat of ice four inches in thickness and the young and gay resorted thither Saturday and Sunday and flew hither and thither over the treacherous surface with the velocity of lubricated lightning, meantime cutting shives and dodos which made the head of the spectator reel to contemplate.

For extraordinary high handed capers Henry Bourland and Howard White have succeeded in removing the mutilated linen from the shrubbery and although they frequently stand on their heads and kick viciously at the man in the moon they assert that they do so on purpose just to exhibit their proficiency.

Died

At the residence of her daughter in Madisonville on Tuesday, Mrs. Jane Turberville, of conjecture. The deceased was seventy-eight years old and was a sister of Dr. E. G. Davis, deceased, of this place. She leaves one surviving child, Mrs. Lelia Wilson, with a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn her loss. For many years she had been a consistent exemplary member of the C. P. Church. Two of her grandsons are officers in the Third Kentucky and the funeral has been deferred until their arrival. The interment takes place today in the Odd Fellows' cemetery. The Bye extends sympathy to the sorrowing ones.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians given me up. Fortunately a friend advised trying 'Electric Ulcers,' and to my great joy and surprise the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robb'd the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 25 cents, guaranteed at St. Bernard drugstore.

Back at the Old Stand.

Pete Davis will next Monday move up and take charge of the Earlington Hotel lately conducted by Mr. DeVylde. The doctor and his good wife wish to thank the good people of Earlington and especially the generous railroad men for needed and appreciated assistance thereby enabling them to lease and refit this convenient house and by close application to business, will make a most desirable stopping place.

Our "Hoss" Editor Returns.

Col. W. A. Toombs, our "hoss" editor, returned Sunday morning from a visit of about four weeks' duration, in and around the immediate vicinity of Gallatin, Tenn., his old home. The Colonel had been feeling badly for some time before making this visit back to his native health, where sweet marsh and honey grow, and we are glad to say that he returned feeling much better and improved in health, after rustication in such a garden spot. He promised when leaving that he would drop a line or two back to the paper while gone, but failed to do so, owing to the fact, he says, of receiving no paper while away; but this week the readers will no doubt be electrified by the pleasure of receiving those classic treasures or the intense, bitter sorrow of disappointment in our anticipated. As far as possible shined sunlight over lives whose only pleasures may be those of childhood.

Wonderful Discovery.

LUNSFORD, ALA., April 15, 1898.

New Spencer Medicine Co.

Dear Sirs—I have been troubled with liver and stomach complaint. I had a doctor and my medicine bill was very high. I took medicine from your doctors and they failed to do me any good. I got no relief until I began to use your valuable Nubian Tea. I used about two dollars worth of it, and it did me more good than all the medicine I ever took. I gained thirty-five pounds in weight and am very good. I can sleep easily, and my appetite is excellent. I can recommend Planter's Nubian Tea to the world as being a God-send to any community. Dies at an Old Age.

Died, at his home in Manitou, Sunday morning, Mr. David Cardwell, after a brief illness with pneumonia. Deceased was seventy-five years of age and had all his life resided in Hopkins county. He was a brother of W. E. Cardwell, of Pond River, also George Cardwell, a former citizen of Earlington, and Mrs. Goode Ashby, of Madisonville, is his sister. A wife, several children and grandchildren survive him. The interment took place Monday at Grapevine cemetery, attended by a large concourse of relatives and friends, to whom the hilarions sounds reached Charlie's ears and it began to soak through the roots of his hair that he had been victimized. He at once vacated his post but has not heard the last of the cruel yell yet.

Christmas Draws Near.

As the holidays approach the interest and enthusiasm of the little folks verge near the fever point. In almost every household long and very suggestive letters are daily written to good old Santa Claus setting forth in the touching and unaffected childish manner the desires of young and tender hearts. Parents would do well to read those Christmas letters and remember that they too were once young and desired the same things their children are begging Santa Claus to bring them. With a very little effort of memory we can recall the pleasure of receiving those Christmas treasures or the intense, bitter sorrow of disappointment in our anticipations. As far as possible shined sunlight over lives whose only pleasures may be those of childhood.

Did you ever see a Snow Storm in Summer?

We never did; but we have seen the clothing of the year so covered with dandruff that it looked as if it had been out in a regular snow storm. No need of this snowstorm. As the summer sun would melt the falling snow so will melt these flakes of dandruff in the scalp. It goes further than this: it prevents their formation.

It has still other properties: it gives color to gray hair; in just ten times out of every ten cases.

And it does even more: it feeds and nourishes the roots of the hair. Thin hair becomes thick hair; and short hair becomes long hair.

We have a book on the Hair and Skin. It is a book for the asking.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expect from the use of the Vigor, return the book and get a full refund.
